

Girls! Your hair needs a little "Danderine"—that's all! When it becomes lifeless, thin or loses its lustre; when ugly dandruff appears, or your hair falls out, a 35-cent bottle of delightful, dependable "Danderine" from any store, will save your hair, also double its beauty. You can have nice, thick hair, too.

OBITUARY

On the 27th day of September 1919, the death angel visited the home of Mrs. David Mullins and took her beloved mother, Mrs. Riddle Porter. She was a kind and loving mother and leaves many friends and relatives to mourn their loss. She had passed her 88th milestone. She leaves four daughters, three girls and four boys and her husband have preceded her to the glory land.

A few nights before grandmother died she looked up at the writer and said: "I shall live again." We would say to the bereaved ones not to weep over grandma as those that have no hope. Just think of her testimony and prepare to meet her where we all shall live again. She will be sadly missed in the home and community, but our loss is heaven's gain. She was loved by all who knew her; to know her was to love her. Two of her children were present at the funeral which was conducted by Rev. Reuben Cornutt.

"Be ye therefore ready also; for the Son of Man cometh at an hour when ye think not."

How Mat Cohen Spends Your Money

Facts for the Taxpayers of Kentucky

Mat S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, employs more people in his department and spends more money than any other three combined departments of the State government. It is very important to the taxpayers, especially the farmers, how this money is spent.

In three years, Cohen's personal traveling expenses, which you taxpayers pay, have piled up to a total of $4,184.93, an average of $1,384.64 per year. In 1917 he charged you taxpayers $5.00 per day for ten days for attending the State Fair in addition to railroad fare and a hotel and taxicab bill of more than $100.00. Does anybody pay you to visit the State Fair?

Vouchers on file in the Auditor's office at Frankfort show what Cohen has been doing with your money. Below are a few samples of the extravagance of this man Cohen who, four years ago, solemnly promised you taxpayers to spend your money carefully and economically:

COHEN CHARGES YOU EXTRA FOR DOING HIS JOB

The minute Cohen was elected to office he got the state legislature to raise his salary, but the legal department of the state ruled he could not have it. As Commissioner of Agriculture, Cohen is a member of all the boards in his department and his duty is to attend their meetings regularly as a part of the work for which you taxpayers pay him a salary. But Cohen charged you from $5.00 to $10.00 a day for attending meetings of various boards. The total you paid him for this was $620.00 for 64 days, an average of $7.44 per day. Heavy money for answering "Hees" at roll call.

Cohen was paid $100.00 upon the order of the Veterinary Examiners' Board and it was changed to the Veterinary License Fund. The Attorney General ruled the claim was illegal.

Certain clerks in Cohen's department draw money in addition to their salaries. One was paid $86.00 a meeting for attending four meetings of the Live Stock Sanitary Board. She draws a regular salary of $2,100.00 a year which you taxpayers pay. Can you beat it?

Another clerk gets a salary of $1,300.00 a year and in addition she is paid an extra $900.00 on each of the State Board of Veterinary Examiners. Pretty neat.

WHAT'S IN THE STATE FAIR BOOKS?

On Oct. 6, the Republican State Campaign Committee asked the privilege of having the State Fair Books examined by certified public accountants. Cohen at first consented, but later denied the privilege. When threatened with a law suit, he said he would submit the request to a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, Oct. 25, a few days before the election.

The books of the State Fair belong to the taxpayers who contribute huge sums of money each year to help keep it going.

Among other items in these books are vouchers showing Mat Cohen's personal expense account. Why does Cohen object to an immediate examination of these books?

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A THOUGHT FOR MOTHER.

Yes, the summer is past and mother failed to get her vacation. And now comes the fall sewing, the winter garments to be chosen, perhaps made; the housecleaning with all of its attendant horrors, the picking of autumn dainties, which will give zest to many a winter feast, and the general management of the whole domestic machinery, so that no little part will become clogged or its squeaking disturb the harmony of the home. As summer has brought mother no vacation, no change of scenes, what wonder then if her face is pale, her step a little slower, her smile no less sweet, but less frequent than of old? Everyone is sorry for mother's disappointments, but all take it as a matter of course as she never complains. So the domestic mill goes grinding on until one day there is all confusion in the household; the machinery is all awry, for the hand that guided it has lost its cunning and dropped nerveless by her side. Mother has borne the burden too long, it becomes too heavy and she is crushed beneath it. Lend this a true picture we have sketched for you? Isn't mother too often left out? Girls, you know it is so and the conscious blush rises to your cheeks and you hang your heads and are ashamed of your own selfishness. We write this that you may be more thoughtful of mother. You will never regret any sacrifice you have made to lighten her burdens and bring into her life all the sweetness possible.

We have heard a great deal in the past year about woman's mission and woman's sphere, until between two contending forces we have begun to wonder whether woman really has any right to exist on earth at all. And yet each day is proving all these assertions, grotesque and otherwise, but more misnomers, while woman continues to perform much the same mission that has fallen to her lot since the world began; doing it better in some cases than in others, more appreciated sometimes than others, but doing her

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Cline, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly... Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful."

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children... Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just report to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

mission and developing with the race and with the world into new opportunities, higher duties and greater privileges. It is an old teaching but one that we need constantly to call to mind, that the one who does that duty which is nearest at hand is the one who accomplishes the most for the world. It is as true of classes as it is of individuals.

Young people starting out in life should not be afraid to go into debt, provided the debt is incurred for a legitimate purpose and is backed by a firm determination to make good. Often times young men and women struggle along, trying to accumulate a little money here and there, when, if they had more faith in their own powers to "put it across," they could borrow enough money to start out on a venture which, bolstered up with hard work, will soon yield enough not only to pay back the debt but also to furnish the means for another venture.

And in addition to this, an honest debt renders a young man or woman more efficient and encourages thrift.

The mother who allows the blues and sulks to overshadow the home, who allows herself to be moody and discontented, falls in a chief duty and places a handicap on her husband and children in the race of life.

We have read somewhere that the cost of stopping a railroad train had been closely figured out, and that it was much greater than the expense of running a train several miles. We do not know which is the harder to stop, a train or a habit, but are inclined to think the latter. We have never tried stopping a train. If trains are as hard to stop as some habits, few would ever be started. No one would dare ride on them. Boys, never start a thing you are not sure to stop. Never start a habit you think you may want to stop. It saves a great deal of trouble not to start it.

We are persuaded in our own minds that the cause of a great many disasters and ruined homes is owing to lack of concord between husband and wife in the management of family concerns. We could mention a score of women whose husbands have failed in business, or died insolvent, who did not have any idea of the state of the financial affairs until the cruel blow came which turned them out to wrestle with poverty for the remainder of their life's day. Then often after otherwise, the world would say, "It was her extravagance that ruined him." Such as astute judge of things is the world.

While we carefully guard whatever is womanly in our daughters, let them be trained to more of fibre and firmness. Educate them to self-denial if pecuniary circumstances demand it, and not to self-indulgence. Accustom them to be of service in the household, to regard economy as praiseworthy and even heroic, and to add to their other accomplishments a practical knowledge of work and the possession of some lucrative position or industry by which they can support themselves. Such girls, when portionless, will carry to their husbands dowries in themselves.

Keep your children off the streets. In a town of our size, with our large lawns and safe backyards, there is no excuse for children playing on the streets, here danger is ever present.
